Juniors . . . this book is yours! You have worked tirelessly in order to give us "The Coronation Ball" and we appreciate it.

— SENIOR MEMORIAL —

In selecting our memorial we had two main objects in mind: first, to leave something that would always be a fitting tribute from our class, and second, something that would be of permanent value.

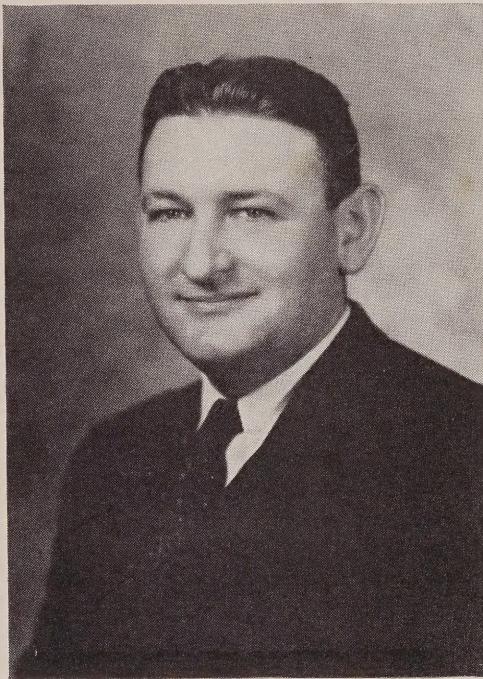

The memorial committee began its work very early in order to investigate all of the suggestions for the memorial that came from the members of the class. A moving picture machine, several spotlights for dramatics, and chimes for the halls were some of the suggestions offered.

After deliberating on the various articles for some time the committee put them to the vote of the class. The entire Senior class clearly saw the need of a football score board and accepted this suggestion at once.

Our football field had its third birthday last fall, and still no class had supplied an adequate score board. We have one of the finest football fields in this section of the state and this is possible only because of our up-to-date equipment. A score board was the only paraphernalia that was lacking. Everyone wants to know the score at a football game and we, as a class, felt that this type of memorial would be of great value to all football fans.

A football score board filled all of our requirements and we hope it will be of great benefit to the on-coming classes as well as to the adult followers of our teams.

MR. W. B. HAMM

Mr. Bruce Hamm
Bowling Green High School
Bowling Green, Ohio

Dear Mr. Hamm:

We, the students of Bowling Green Senior High School, have learned to know you pretty well during the last two years. Well known to us is your fine sportsmanship, coaching ability, and ready smile. You've led our Bobcats to victory, watched over us in 209, and impressed upon us the importance of student co-operation by your brief talks in assemblies.

We've watched you as you sat on the bench cheering the "Cats", urging them to victory, but when they met defeat you grinned just the same and said, "That's okay, boys. You'll do better next time."

We admire you for that sportsmanlike attitude, coach, and want you to know it. That is the purpose of this letter. However, we feel that we should show our appreciation in some other way, so —

It is with the greatest of respect and admiration that we dedicate this, the Hi-Echo of '37, to you, one of the grandest fellows that ever walked the halls of Bee Gee High.

Sincerely,

The Staff

—THEY ALL HELPED—

Mr. F. G. (Gumshoe) Skibbie pauses momentarily to flash his "poisonality" smile for his dear, dear, public. Fascinating, isn't he?

John Ruel leans thoughtfully on the fence while The Inquiring Reporter jots down revealing information she has just gained. Be careful, folksies, she tells all!

Mrs. James Inman, nurse at good old B. G. H. S., evidently didn't want to pose for the party picture. Dear, dear —we interrupted her just when she was saying good-bye to her "hubby" too— perhaps we'd better leave—excuse us please!

Great day! What have we here? Well, if it isn't Mr. Charlie Graham and Mrs. Dorothy Bradford. Mr. Dale Gallier, the other janitor was absent when this picture was taken but it was because he was so terribly bashful, so we'll forgive him.

Mussolini! Hurrah! All kidding aside there is a resemblance between our Coach Hamm as he appears in this picture, and Italy's famed leader, now isn't there? Perhaps it's the way his hair is parted. Oh, well—he's a grand guy anyway—so there!

Over the top! Again the Bobcats are victorious and their opponents take a severe trouncing. Oh well, it's all in the game, anyway.

Watch the birdie! They did—these gentlemen who drive the school buses.

Ooooh! Look at the lovely lassies! School girls? Well, practically! Miss Marjorie Wentz and Miss Donna Simmonds, librarians at the public library, seem to be enjoying themselves, don't they?

Look who's here—Mr. R. H. Rubrake, Spanish teacher and author! Deah, Deah! He looks pleased doesn't he? Wait until he sees this picture.

Surprised, isn't he? They all are though, when they find themselves staring into the eyes of a camera. This gentleman is Mr. Glenn, otherwise known as "Curly." He was washing windows when this picture was taken. Nice photography, eh what?

ADMINISTRATION

SUPT. A. B. CONKLIN

Mr. Conklin, we've seen you in many different moods and situations. We've held counsel with you in your office, heard you speak in assemblies, watched you cheer the Bobcats on to victory, and greeted you as you and Mrs. Conklin waltzed past us at the school dances. In all these circumstances you have proved yourself to be "the perfect gentleman".

Today I wish to take this opportunity to give due respect and expression of admiration to you, one of the grandest persons who ever filled the position of Superintendent of Schools in this state or in any other. In this matter I am acting as spokesman for the entire student body, for each of us wants you to realize how much it has meant to have a man at the head of our school who is a "pal" as well as an adviser.

Sincerely,

The Editor

Board of Education
Bowling Green High School
Bowling Green, Ohio

Dear Sirs:

We, the students of Bowling Green Senior High School, wish to use this letter as a means of thanking you for all that you have done for us. We realize that you have received little compensation for the time, money, and interest that you have generously contributed.

The benefits we have received as a result of your guidance are many and we want you to know that we appreciate them. The thoughtfulness that has prompted you to maintain a good physical plant and educational equipment and opportunities is characteristic of yourselves. Your accomplishments act as a firm foundation for the educational program of tomorrow as well as today.

Again let us thank you for all that you have done. We want you to know that your efforts have not gone un-noticed or un-appreciated by any of us.

Sincerely,

HILTY RICHARD ORGAN ANGENE MERCER
LE VIER ALEXANDER SCHEID BOYLES KLEPINGER WAUGH

Mr. F. G. Skibbie has made a name for himself in the last eleven years for his direction of the dramatics clubs and especially for the direction of the Senior Class plays. He teaches Civics, American History, and Sophomore History.

Mr. Lester E. Angene has just completed his second year as an English instructor in B. G. H. S. This year he organized a public speaking class which has progressed nicely. He also sponsors the debate team.

Miss Margaret Robson, a Latin teacher for several years in the Bowling Green schools, has completed another successful year in the teaching of this subject. This lovely lady has done much to make B. G. H. S. an enjoyable place, and her efforts are deeply appreciated.

Miss Helen Waugh, having taught English for a number of years in the Bowling Green Senior High School, is the senior member of the English staff. She teaches Sophomore and Senior English.

Mr. R. V. Hilty teaches seventh and eighth grade music. He directs the Chorus in Junior High School and the Chorus and Glee Clubs in the Senior High School. Mr. Hilty's students have brought new honors to the school this year.

Mr. M. M. Mercer, known as "Major Bowes", has charge of the publication of the Scarlet Parrot and the Hi-Echo. His workers are coming up in this old world of ours as this year the Scarlet Parrot has come out in regular weekly editions and the Hi-Echo is out on time. He also teaches Journalism, Economics, and Sociology.

Mr. H. O. Stout acts as Business Manager of athletics. He teaches Chemistry and has a few classes in the Junior High School teaching General Science.

Miss Katherine Ruh is the girls' gym teacher for both the Senior High School and the Junior High School. She is the sponsor of the G. A. A. and many other outside activities such as intramural volley ball, basketball, baseball and tennis.

Miss Ruby LeVier teaches art classes in the Junior High School as well as in the Senior High School. She is the sponsor of the Art Club and the Art Metal Clubs. Miss LeVier has been very helpful as a Junior sponsor and credit should be given her for the decorations used in the Junior-Senior Proms.

Mr. F. E. Marsh is the assistant coach to Coach Hamm and he has control of the reserve squads. He has aided the school in acting as supervisor of the study hall.

Mr. L. O. Willhite is the sponsor for the Hi-Y Club. He teaches Shorthand, Book-keeping and Law. He also manages tennis outside of school.

Mr. Raymond Rubrake is one of the best Spanish teachers in the state. He has published several Spanish manuals, one of which is used by his Spanish classes. He also is the coach of the varsity golf squad.

RIDER WILLHITE
DIXON MARSH MERCER SWIGART RUH RUBRAKE SKIBBIE HAMM

Miss Hazel Mercer's major work is the teaching of French, and she also has a class in Sophomore English. During noon hour she has charge of the Senior High School cafeteria.

Mrs. Edith Dixon is a newcomer on the faculty this year. She aids Mr. Rider in his typing classes and she also teaches a class in Salesmanship.

Mr. C. R. Cook is the boys' physical education teacher. He also is in charge of the track team.

Mr. P. W. Scheid, the Sophomore English teacher, has made a name for himself during the last year. Although this was his first year in Bee Gee High, his work has been of such quality that it was much appreciated.

Mr. W. Bruce Hamm, in the few years that he has been with us, has won a name for himself in Northwestern Ohio as a football and basketball coach. He is also the gentleman who cares for the Senior registration in 209.

Miss Mary Klepinger, Home Economics teacher, besides caring for her classes has helped the Junior class through a successful year. She accompanied the Home Economics club, which is an organization within her department, to Columbus.

Mr. W. H. Richard is another teacher who has been with us only a comparatively short time. Many of his pupils were sent to the state contests and came through "with flying colors".

Mr. D. G. Organ is just one of the many teachers who does double duty by teaching in Junior High School and Senior High School, too. He is also the man to be found whenever and wherever the public address system is in operation.

Mr. W. A. Alexander is the teacher who has charge of all the home gardening and agriculture classes as well as the sponsorship of the F. F. A. In the last two years he has taken on an additional class in economics.

Mr. E. L. Boyles has the honor of being the oldest member of the faculty in point of service. He teaches almost any kind of mathematics that anyone could want.

Mr. R. A. Swigart is another Junior sponsor who, besides aiding that class, has carried a full teaching schedule of classes in industrial arts and mechanical drawing. He has been with us for a few years and we hope that he will be here for many more.

Mr. W. A. Rider is one of those teachers who writes strange signs on the blackboards and then asks the pupils what they mean. You guessed it! Mr. Rider is a commercial teacher. He teaches first and second year typing, first year shorthand, and salesmanship.

—THOSE WHO LEAD—

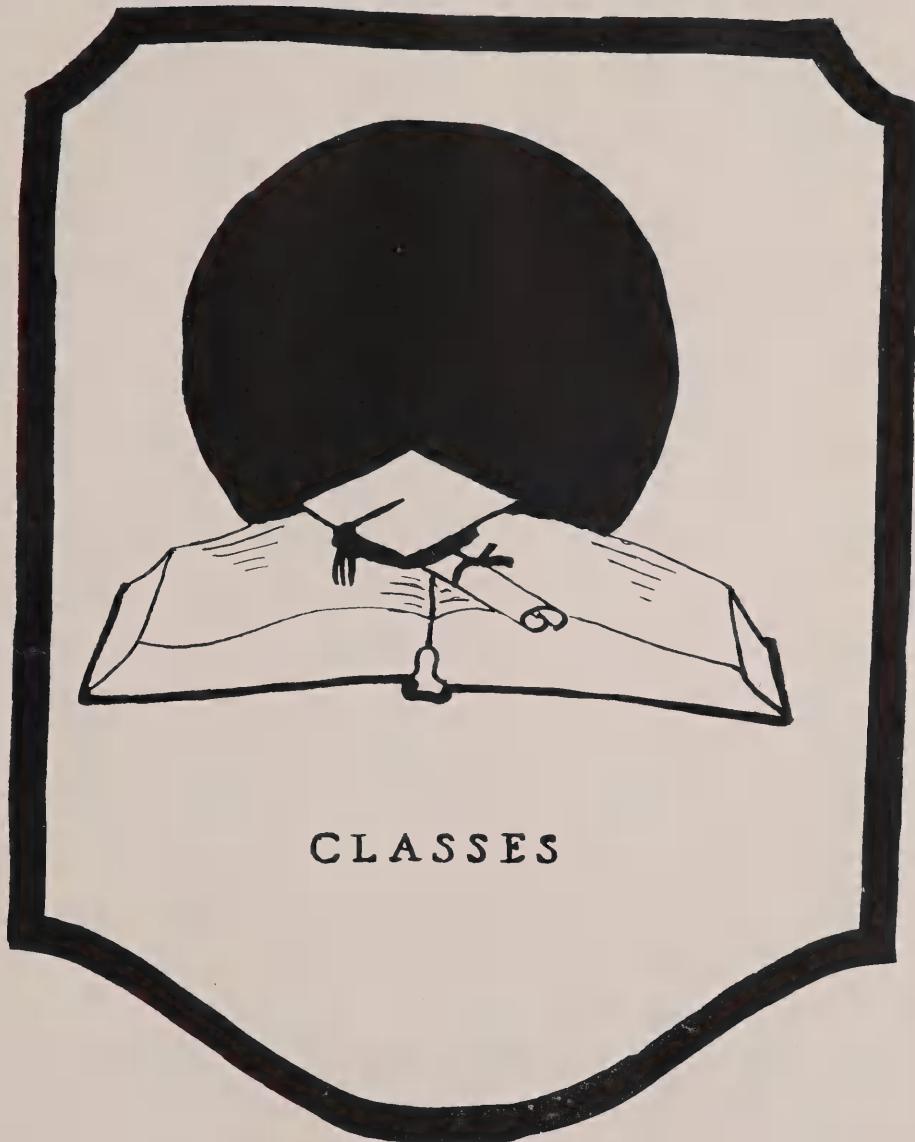

Those who lead us through the seemingly never-ending school years with their tireless effort deserve undying appreciation especially from the Seniors. The Board of Education has seen to it that the school is the finest and the best equipped school in Northwestern Ohio. The superintendent has kept peace in his large family of students.

The faculty has encouraged us and praised us in all of our work. We may have made life unpleasant for them at times but we thank them for all they have done for us to make us more prepared for life.

The janitors also deserve much praise for they have patiently cleaned the school when we have made the floors, desks, and walls especially dirty.

We may have been noisy in your surroundings, librarians, yet each and everyone of us wishes to express his appreciation to you for aiding us in our school work.

Last but not least, the office is deserving of many thanks. We cannot find words to tell you how grateful we are to you who led us.

CLASSES

THEY ALL HINDERED

Working hard, girls? The chemistry seems to worry you, or am I mistaken? Say just what are Mildred Wolfe and Barbara Avery doing outside a window on the third floor? I wonder! Look at the hand reaching out the window at the left. Careful, girls!

Here's a snap of Freddie Marsh peer-ing dreamily out the window in 209. Can't you just see the paper wads fly-ing while his back is turned? Just wait until he turns around, though. That's when the fireworks will start!

Iona Hughes and Betty Beach seem to be taking their time. They're on their way to school, so why should they hurry? They look happy, don't they?

The Three Musketeers! Ahoy there! Dick Foster, Jim Hunter and Doug Dauterman pause in the rain to accomodate the photographer. Doug looks rather bored, doesn't he?

Arna Yawberg didn't want her picture taken but "Yours truly" finally got one. She and "Bill" must see something interesting. Come on, Arna, turn around so we can see you! I guess we'll have to wait, she evidently didn't hear me!

Oooh! Look at 'em hurry! No wonder, it's raining, cats and dogs!

(Oh, now don't take that literally).

Three girls from B. G. H. S. huddle under an umbrella that evidently isn't quite large enough. Hey—you on the left! Your going to get wet!

Jackie Simonds, smiles lovingly toward the building. I'll bet a "certain Miss Arnold" is standing in the doorway. If she is, he has a right to smile . . . (are you jealous, boys?)

"Gee, I'm tired," sighs Don Patterson, who leans heavily on the auto fender that happens to be near-by. "Me, too," groans Don Bell, as he uses a telephone pole for a prop to keep him on his feet. Oh, well, aren't we all? I suppose the two "Dons" never thought of getting a good night's sleep, did they?"

"Oh, gosh," murmurs Dick Foster, as he looks just in time to see the flick of the shutter. Mary Louise Hatfield, the blushing blonde in the picture seems very pleased but she wishes that Dick wouldn't look so uncomfortable and embarrassed. He's not used to public appearances, that's all.

—SENIOR CLASS HISTORY—

We've slumbered snoring our way through Marsh's Mismanaged Morgue. We've danced struggling heroically to maintain our equilibrium in spite of the avalanche of couples crowding the dance floor. We've rooted screaming lustily for the Bobcats (especially during the last minute of the game.) We've strutted enthralling those who attended "Murder in Rehearsal" with our mystery and comedy. We've scrimped breaking open our china banks to meet the many expenses that arise. We've stumbled hurrying to get that long-awaited diploma. Thus it is that the Senior Class of Nineteen Hundred and Thirty Seven has passed through a year of study, fun, sport — a year that has been marked by many important events. Kenneth Harger has spoken and acted for us in the capacity of president and the Senior Class feels that he deserves a cheer. Another cheer goes to each of our advisers, M. M. Mercer, F. G. Skibbie, and R. H. Rubrake for their fine co-operation.

THEY'RE SENIORS

O-oo-oo-oo-oh! Look here! Bob Alexander certainly was surprised when he turned around and saw the cameraman. That's Jane Maurer and Joan Lytle he's entertaining with his brilliant remarks. They were brilliant, weren't they, Bob?

Gracious! Harry Smith must be stuck, he certainly can't be resting in that uncomfortable position. (Maybe he's taking his daily dozen). Harry Burkhalter, another Senior, acts as pall-bearer for his pal in this pose. (I wonder where Betsy is?)

"Yo-Hoo, Everybody! Here I am! Betty Beach sends her greeting to the world in general and the sound echos clear up to the four corners. Oh, well, the police will think nothing of it since they know our Betty.

Good old Stacy! He certainly looks tired, doesn't he? Oh, well, he should. Everyone knows that he works too hard for his own good. (Why sure!) Better watch out, Stacy, there's someone behind you!

Here is a view that should be familiar to all of you. It's the front of the building taken from a different angle. Excellent photography, eh what? A worthwhile subject, too.

Hangin' on a lamp post! Oh, boy! Irma must think she's Venus. Oh, my, I forgot. Venus didn't hang on a lamp post, did she? Oh, well, I guess it doesn't matter, anyway.

Now Mr. Rubrake, was that a nice thing to do? Don't you know that you shouldn't tell Mr. Skibbie jokes that make him laugh and forget his dignity? After all, he must maintain his equilibrium. (Or am I wrong?)

"Smiles" Lehmann braves the wind and rain to make a public appearance. She has just finished rounding up the other people whose pictures appear here, and now that she's finished, she has a right to smile. Pretty damp out, though, eh, Nance?

Mr. M. M. Mercer, adviser and sponsor for the Hi-Echo staff poses for a snapshot by the cameraman who took these pictures. She was aided by Don Wolfe former reporter for the Sentinel Tribune. The blur in the picture is Irma.

Good old Alec! He sits patiently, confident that next year will bring another successful athletic season. Let's not disappoint him!

CHARLES SCHOONER

US

Two years ago, Charles (Chuck) Schooner was admitted to the Crippled Children's Convalescent Home in Toledo, where he is now a patient. During those two years the students and instructors at B. G. H. S. have missed him, since he was formerly a student here.

This year he graduates with his classmates from this school, and we are glad that he will be able to take his place at the graduation exercises.

During his high school career, "Chuck" was especially active in athletics. While at the Convalescent Home, he edited "The Echo", a newspaper published by the patients there.

We are all glad to have "Chuck" back with us for graduation, and wish him the very best of luck!

We've worked striving gallantly to get our themes in on time in order to keep Mr. Angene from tearing his hair! We've fought . . . doing our best to gain entrance to the gym in order to peddle our wares of candy, gum, and ice cream bars at the basketball games. We've led and been led . . . following "small but mighty" Don Bell for two whole years (no wonder we're a wreck). We have tried everything from "dancing and amateuring" to "footballing and basketballing." Since much money was lost at our very "sporty" dances after basketball games (just try to remember them) we sponsored a very elaborate, colossal, gigantic, and stupendous "hop." We crowned everyone at a Coronation Ball held at B. G. Castle (don't confuse it with Windsor Castle because there is a difference). At this gala affair Miss Ruby LeVier, art instructor at our institution of learning, bore the glittering emblem of the Royal Order of Class Sponsors, as she led a procession made up of the following pleasing personages: Professor Ruh (a graduate of Zooker College—ahem!) accompanied by her swing partner Scheid, Miss Robson and Mr. Swigart followed representing the Athletic division, since the former is a champion ping pong player and the latter a crack rifle shot. Delicious punch was served by our eminent cook, Miss Klepinger.

The ancient history of the class (including all the skeletons in their closet) has now been thoroughly discussed even including a few phases of their modern history. Now let us prophesy about the future. They are destined "for an awful let down," for it would be practically out of the question for these feudal lords to surpass the brilliant class of 1937.

"Green" they called us but slowly, painfully, we've wended our way through the year and now we look joyfully to the two years of school ahead of us. We've played especially during assemblies. We've strolled along the dark, dark hallways and we got our men! We've supported dances just try to put on a dance without having Sophomores present! We've contributed remember the ultra-cute footballs that we inveigled you into purchasing at the football games.

Remember the 'S Hop? Remember what a grand time you had? We're proud to say that we were the first Sophomore class to sponsor such a fete. Everyone had a perfectly grand time, too!

Mr. Scheid, our English instructor, can tell you what perfectly behaved students we were (at least in his classes.) We worked tirelessly in order to get our themes in on time so that we might rate at least a "B" in the course. Oh well, this last year has been fun anyway, hasn't it?

"I'm hurrying!" After all I can't write anything about a club that hasn't even organized yet, can I? (For instance the Ladder Men!)

Any of you might have heard just such conversation as this if you happened to pass room 204 while this Hi-Echo was in the making. Really though, the editor wasn't half as vicious as she sounded, but the students on the staff just acted "scared" to make her feel good. (But don't tell her that.)

In spite of the fact that the members of the staff had to work pretty hard in order to get the book out on time they enjoyed doing so, and hope everyone likes the results of their labors.

==FIVE STAR FINAL==

"Buy a Parrot?"

"Why buy a Scarlet Parrot; we have a yellow canary at home."

This is the usual Tuesday morning exchange of greetings. Yet the people continue buying this newsy little newspaper.

The greatest interest of the buyers is whether their names are in the paper. This is the cause of many of the personal columns such as "Social News" and the "Inquiring Reporter."

Someone made a remark somewhat to the effect of the following question after passing the open door of the Journalism room while the paper was in the process of making: "How do they ever get anything done, for everyone seems to be talking at the same time?"

But they must have done a good deal in spite of the noise for the sheet was out regularly every Tuesday and it was readable, too.

The editors deserve a lot of credit for putting out such a great small paper. The alternate editors for the first semester were Irma Stevens and Earl Smith; Ila Gene Ash and Darwin Mayfield were the second semester editors.

Mr. M. M. Mercer, the instructor, should be given a badge of bravery and patience for all the gray hairs and "lines of care" that he has earned on this job. Don't stop this good work!

Honor leadership Christian character these are the goals for which the Hi-Y boys have been striving during the past year. In all the activities in which they took part or which they sponsored, it was always their aim to maintain a high standard of friendship among themselves and their associates.

If you attended any of the basketball games this season, you certainly must have noticed the good looking young men who acted as ushers. (Now don't tell me that you want an introduction!) Well, these gallant youths who so politely directed townspeople and visitors to the bleachers were none other than the local Hi-Y boys. Wasn't that nice of them? They had charge of a check-room, too, where anyone could check his coat free of charge. Evidently the fans appreciated this service, because the members of the organization received many favorable comments on their work.

But that's not all! During Easter season they conducted special Easter services that were open to the students and the members of the faculty. These services, which were held mornings from 8:30 to 8:45, were enjoyed by all those who attended.

The boys also sponsored a formal Hi-Y alumni dance April 16, and as usual, a good time was had by all.

Here's to you, boys! You're regular fellows!

== WE SAW THEM DIE ==

Garbos and Taylors (well almost, anyway) have been sent forth into the cruel, cruel world from Bee Gee High, due to the "super-splendiferous" accomplishments of the B. G. Dramatics Club. Of course we'll give Mr. F. G. Skibbie a little credit, for he cultivated the hidden talent in these young actors.

This year the Dramatics Club presented two plays to the student body as assembly program material. One was "Christmas Memories." The chorus sang various carols during the play. Frank Britt proved to the audience, to Mr. Skibbie, and himself that he could crack nuts even though he did have stage fright.

In the second play, "Vocational Guidance", Kenneth Harger was a successful business man (can you imagine that) and Jeanne Waugh was his blushing secretary.

Oh yes, the Juniors took parts in the plays also.

When the club met, the members gave short plays after the business meetings. Also, various speakers talked before the club on many points of interest such as make-up, lighting the stage, and stage furnishings.

May the students continue to let the final curtains fall in front of them as successful actors and actresses. What does Greta Garbo or Robert Taylor have that you don't have?

Although the Senior High School is composed of Seniors, Juniors, and Sophomores, we have dolls. This is the second year that Miss Ruby LeVier has successfully managed the Puppet Club. This year the members worked on the making of hand puppets and the designing and constructing of their own stages. They also wrote short sketches, which were presented before the kiddies of the grade schools.

As a young man working his way up in the world, the club made the simplest form of puppets first, which is the hand puppet. These are slipped over the hand and arm and are thus manipulated when the operator is under the stage. Hum — I guess that the old saying is still true, that one must start at the bottom of things and work his way up.

The members of the club next made the string-puppets which are operated by strings from over-head. That just goes to show you that you will reach the top and be able to look down, (if you keep on working).

LeVaun Ordway, a popular Junior, is the president of this organization. The members have had good times in making puppets and are looking forward to another happy year in '37 and '38.

— — — HOME EC. CLUB — — —

"Bring on your problems pertaining to household difficulties! We'll solve them for you!" With these words the members of the Home Economics Club challenge the world in general.

Under the leadership of Miss Mary Klepinger, home economics instructor, and the president of the club, Glendora Woods, the girls have had a very successful year. They are really true experts in the art of cooking. (Interested, boys?) During the year, they have worked out special projects such as the preparing of meals cooked and served in foreign country style.

Every year the club has one especially outstanding event. This year a formal dinner was given in honor of the departing Seniors of the organization. The date of the occasion was May 6. The theme carried out in the decorations was that of a ship's salon, and suggested farewell greetings. The speaker of the evening was Miss Edbrooke, exchange teacher in the Napoleon schools. Miss Edbrooke comes originally from England and has been a popular speaker among educational groups.

This club has been continually growing in popularity and this year it has surpassed all former years of activity. It is truly a worthwhile organization for any girl interested in problems of the home and the art of entertaining.

It's no longer the farmers of yesterday we are interested in, but the farmers of tomorrow, for instance the F. F. A. Grandpappy says, "Well, now, we used to do things that way." The modern boy says, "Yeah, but we learn things now!"

The farmer lads no longer go to bed with the sun, but are active young men. To prove it, the F. F. A. aided with the county corn husking contest, had a candy booth there and took a part in the contest for future farmers. A great deal of honor should be given to Kenneth LeBay, the individual corn husking champion in the district.

The future farmers are athletic young men. The local quintet (don't get excited, they weren't all from the same family) were the "runner-uppers" for the F. F. A. basketball tournament championship game.

A judging team was sent to the Toledo State Hospital Dairy Day. Here the boys were chosen to be sent to the state judging contests at Columbus. Upon this selection they were sent to the Ohio Experiment Station at Wooster.

The officers of the club are the following notorious young men:

President — Jerry Carter, heart breaker of the gals.

Vice-president — Tom Buchman, captain of the football team.

Secretary — Louis Heinze, sweet and innocent.

Treasurer — Fred Haskins, hall pest.

Reporter — Kenneth LeBay, noted corn husker.

Sponsor — Mr. W. A. Alexander, local hall patrolman.

Girls, watch out! These young men have been in a club that teaches them how to win an argument. They're good too! You see, this club is called the Debate Club. The name speaks for itself and so do the members.

This club was newly organized this year for boys only. You see girls, they plotted against you. It includes new members of Junior and Sophomore ranks. Bowling Green should have a good debate club next year since these "loud-speakers" have had a year's practice.

The question on which they debated was the State High School Debate question. It is, Resolved: that the government should own and operate all public utility plants. Regardless of the hard time of securing data on this question, the boys enjoyed a thoroughly successful year.

The club debated with several important high schools, among which were Fremont, Findlay, and Port Clinton. These boys in this club have had experience in debates as they have participated in forty debates this season.

The members applied for membership in the National Forensic League. In order to join this the members must earn two hundred and fifty points in one year. Although the boys agreed that the club has made them work, they expressed the desire to continue this type of work next year.

Exhausted . . . panting . . . fatigue written on perspiring faces . . . tousled curls clinging to damp foreheads . . . and yet their eyes bare the gleam of victory. "Twenty-five more points" . . . "will I win my letter?" . . . "why not?" . . . "will I?" . . . snatches of conversation issuing from the girls' locker room . . . the G. A. A. girls have played their final game of the year.

"Baske*ball" . . . "baseball" . . . "volley ball" . . . "points" . . . "letter" . . . thoughts surging through uncertain minds . . . "do I have enough points?"

Such was the scene in and around Senior High in March when the candidates for G. A. A. letters were being discussed. Although the letters weren't awarded until May at the G. A. A. annual spring banquet, during March — and up to the time of the banquet — 'who were to get letters' was a much discussed topic.

The chief splinter on the board was Alice Carmichael; vice splinter, Nancy Lee Lehmann; and secretary-treasurer, Catherine Echle. The other official knot holes on the board were filled by Geraldine Naugle, Madeliene Warren, Irma Stevens, Harriet McKnight and Glendora Woods.

This outstanding club, the G. A. A., has recently been added to the list of extra-curricular activities of Bowling Green Senior High School under the leadership of Miss Katherine Ruh, girls' athletic director.

== SINGER'S DELIGHT ==

"Do, re, me, fa, so, la, ti, do" are oh, so familiar to us. These sounds recall our grade school days when Mr. Hilty used to sound his "pitch-pipe" and say, "Now, sing."

Oh, how we did dislike singing class; never-the-less, this year Mr. Hilty produced a very efficient chorus, which brought honors to the school. One of the honors was the participation of sixteen picked members of the chorus in a chorus festival held at Defiance, on March ninth. Those chosen were "High C" Frowine, Spitler, Ash, "Future Farmerette" Johnston, "Cheerleader" Stevens, "Chisler" McElhaney, "Wahoo" McKnight, two blue's singers, Betty Sams and Dorothy Mercer, "Silent" Patterson, "Niagria" Falls, "He man" Bell, "Ladies' man" Dauterman, "Pandora" Beck, "Betty" McConnell, and the second "Caruso" Ladd.

A public concert was held in the School Auditorium to make money to pay the expenses of the chorus when they went to Ada on March twenty-first to enter the District chorus contest. On this date the chorus and the Girls' Glee Club won second place and the right to enter the State Contest which was held April twenty-third.

People are still wondering whether it was the singing of the Girls' Glee Club or the good looking girls in the club which won the right to second place which means that they did "right smart."

— — — LISTEN FOR THE LONESOME DRUM — — —

*Rat-a-tat-tat-tat-tat-tat,
Ti-tium-tium-tium-tium
There's plenty of fun in that,
For a boy with a little red drum.*

Not only the drummer, but the entire band from the drum major to the flute player has had loads of fun during the year playing for the "Scarlet and Gray." Maybe, the reason for that is that they have such attractive new uniforms and "chapeaux".

The band certainly aroused plenty of pep during both the football and basketball seasons. They even exhumed "Old Bee Gee Hi."

Jim Falls and Allan Richard were alternate drum majors for this sixty piece band. It's quite a feat to be able to twirl the baton the way they do. If you don't believe me, try it sometime.

The good thing about this band is that they also can play concert music. A few of the band members played at several band festivals. These festivals were at Bowling Green State University. They also entertained the children at the Juvenile Home on November 11. We're proud of you, band members, and hope that we can continue being "puffed up" when you play and march. Even Mr. W. H. Richard, the director, is proud of this noisy group, and why shouldn't he be? Our band is "tops"!

== MUSIC AT MIDNIGHT ==

"What does Paul Whiteman and his orchestra have that I and my orchestra haven't?" asks Winchester H. Richard. Nothing, so the orchestra thinks. Really, they do have very attractive girls and handsome boys in it. And oh, the music that they can produce!

But the school still wants to know what Mr. Richard really wanted with a "coo coo" whistle that he asked for on April first!

They not only played for several assembly programs and the men of the Masonic Lodge, but also made a trip to Wayne to present a concert for the Parent - Teacher Association. A selected group accompanied the community singers who presented the "Messiah" at Christmas time.

The orchestra furnished delightful music when the Public Speaking group presented an assembly program and when the Farmers' Institute opened its evening sessions.

At the beginning of the season the orchestra held a meeting to choose officers for the year. Those chosen were the following:

President — Rubinoff and her violin (Lillian Ruedy)

Vice-President — Hunt her, Jim (Jim Hunter)

Secretary — Joan Cool-off (Joan Coulon)

A few discords have not spoiled an enjoyable and successful year for the Senior High School Orchestra.

The noted coach, Bruce Hamm, organized the Lettermen's Club. The purpose of the club is to promote better sportsmanship and a more fraternal attitude toward competing teams, if this is possible.

Membership to the club may be gained only by earning a letter in a major or minor sport, so you can easily see that "Freddie" and "Dickie" have something in common to talk about. The athletic scholastic ratings have been raised a great deal since the club was organized.

The club sent letters of appreciation to teams with whom they competed in out of town games, thanking them for the hospitable attitudes they displayed. The High School wonders whether Findlay received such a letter after the basketball game.

Programs, including line-ups of the teams, were published by the Letter Club this year. This contributed much to the enjoyment of the 1936-37 athletic season.

The main officers of the club are the following:

President.....Jerry Carter

Vice-President.....James Stacy

Secretary.....Harry Smith (better known as "Jew-boy")

Treasurer.....Thomas Buchman

— LEADERS, EVERY ONE —

W. B. HAMM

Coach W. B. Hamm has been a leader among the boy athletes of the school in the finest sense of the word. It seems to be the philosophy of some coaches that in order to turn out satisfactory teams a man must be a driver. Certainly players do need a strong directing hand, but it has been shown over and over again that as much or more can be accomplished with most people by intelligent leadership than by bullying and high-handed tactics that are the stock-in-trade of the driver.

The man who has directed the destinies of Bobcat teams on the gridiron and basketball floor for the past couple of years has been habitually and characteristically patient and in all ways considerate of the men who have been put under his care. He has shown himself to be more interested in helping boys to find the best in themselves and to develop it than in the mere winning of games.

From the standpoint of games lost and won, the work of Coach Hamm in our school can be accounted a real success. His teams have consistently met and given strong competition to teams from schools that are bigger than ours.

It is with real regret that his many friends learned of Coach Hamm's decision to leave the Bobcats at the end of this school year, but none of them would wish to see him fail to take advantage of opportunity for advancement in his profession.

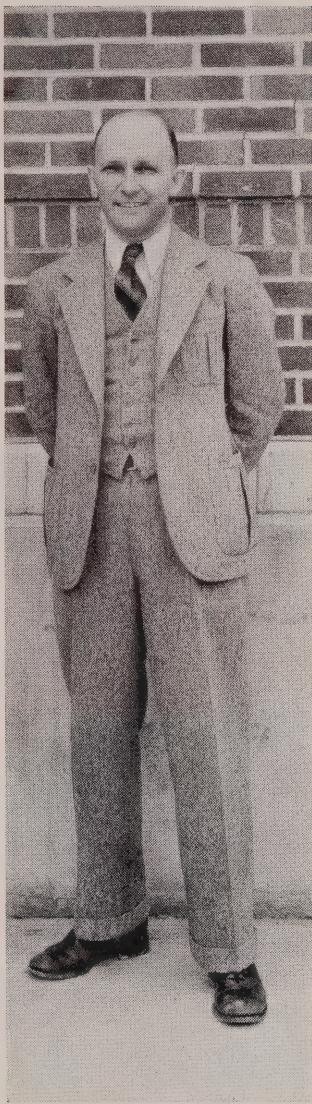

Miss Katherine Ruh has been an outstanding leader among the girls in the school ever since she became a member of the faculty. While her job is primarily one of teaching the girls physical education, she has led as a class sponsor and in many other ways, and her leadership has been a happy one because she has helped all who have come in contact with her to enjoy life more.

Her organization of the G. A. A. and the promotion of interscholastic play days for the girls are signal bits of work to her credit.

KATHERINE RUH

C. R. COOK

Mr. C. R. Cook has distinguished himself during his work here as a physical education director for the boys through his efforts to develop new and attractive athletic activities. He has developed a track team that holds its own among the schools of this part of the state in a surprisingly short time.

In addition to his work in the Senior High School, he finds time to coach the Bobkitten football squad and to officiate at some high school and college games.

FRED MARSH

Fred Marsh has been the assistant football and basketball coach in the Senior High School since Ralph Rettig's day here. He has become a favorite with the boys on the teams and the rooters who fill the stands when Bee Gee takes the field.

The reserve teams under his coaching have had as successful seasons as the first string men who were trained primarily by the men he has respectfully treated as his chiefs.

First Row: Bill Berry, Harry Pike, Fred Schwind, Danny Glenn, Kenneth DeWalt, Warren Duncan, Arthur Siebens, Ralph Ledy, Dale Bingham, James Lehmann, James Ziegler, Harry Slawson.

Second Row: Jack Simonds, Eddie Lambert, Melvin Wentz, Quentin Bowers, Douglas Dauterman, Sam Slawson, Franklin Boosembark, Blythe Drain, Paul Ladd, Orville Austin, Fred Uhlman, Mr. Tassel.

With nine lettermen back from the 1936 grid team and five of the nine backfield men, Coach Bruce Hamm had to build an entire line with green material. Captain Buchman was one of the bulwarks from which Coach Hamm built his line. Other lettermen in the line were as follows: Carter, (T) ; Bell, (C) ; and Gernert, (E). Backfield men were: Simonds, (Q) ; Uhlman, (F) ; Smith, (HB) ; Yoder, (F) ; and Foster (HB). Other candidates with experience were as follows: Ames, Bowers, Stacy, Austin, Hunter, Ziegler, Ladd, Dunipace, DeWalt, Ledy, Glenn and Wentz.

Coach Hamm ably aided by Assistant Coach Fred Marsh brought the boys out to practice before school started to get them in shape for their first game with Tiffin Columbian the second week after school opened.

The spirit of the squad in general was much higher than that of last year's team and such a spirit helped the bobcats out of many tight spots. Each fellow had faith in his teammate and knew he could do his job and the team functioned well together.

==THE GAMES THEY PLAYED==

TIFFIN COLUMBIAN

September 19

B. G. - 0 — Tiffin - 6

Bowling Green opened the 1936 football season at Tiffin Columbian. Tiffin outweighed the Bobcats but the teams battled on even terms until a pass from Shirley to Doll resulted in a Tiffin score. The try for extra point failed.

FINDLAY

September 26

B. G. - 0 — Findlay - 0

Findlay High's Trojans invaded the Bobcat stadium at City Park and the teams played to a hard fought scoreless tie before 1,500 spectators.

DEFIANCE

October 3

B. G. - 20 — Defiance - 6

Defiance, boasting of a fine passing attack, scored in the first quarter on a long pass but the enraged Bobcats came back to score three times to win their first major football victory in three years.

LIMA CENTRAL

October 9

B. G. - 0 — Lima - 0

Playing in a steady downpour of rain, Bowling Green and Lima Central slid and skidded to a scoreless tie. The gun ended the game with the ball on Lima's 13 yard line.

BRYAN

October 16

B. G. - 19 — Bryan - 19

Playing for the first time of the season under the lights, Bowling Green and Bryan played to a 19-19 tie. Yoder and Lambert scored touchdowns for the Bobcats. Bowling Green was the only team to score three times on Bryan, the recognized champions of Northwestern Ohio.

NAPOLEON

October 23

B. G. - 6 — Napoleon - 0

On Dad's Day, Napoleon proved stiff competition for the Bobcats and the only score resulted from a pass from Smith to Stacy. Dad's Day is the day that the fathers of the team members sit on the bench.

PERRYSBURG

October 29

B. G. - 6 — Perrysburg - 6

Bowling Green's Bobcats returned home from Perrysburg bitter and with a bad taste in their mouths for Perrysburg had gained a moral victory by virtue of a 6-6 tie. Uhlman scored on a pass from Smith late in the third quarter. Eddie Lambert, fleet halfback, received a shoulder injury.

FOSTORIA

November 7

B. G. - 6 — Fostoria - 14

Bowling Green played its second game of football under the lights at Fostoria and our ancient rivals downed the Bobcats 14-6. Sheer power plays proved superior to trick and pass plays in this game. Yoder scored for the Bobcats.

SEASON'S RECORD

WON — 2 LOST — 2 TIED — 4

— Bowling Green

— BOBCAT REGULARS

FRED UHLMAN . . . One of the smallest men on the team, Fred made up for his size by his aggressive and willing spirit. This is his last year and his excellent playing will be missed tremendously next year.

DICK DUNIPACE . . . Dunipace made his debut into high school football this year as a letterman by playing a "bang-up" game at the guard position. Dick tipped the scales at 170 pounds and every ounce of weight was used to the best advantage. He should be a great asset to next year's team and we are looking forward to his helping the Bobcats of '38 to a successful season.

JACK SIMONDS . . . "Jackie" was the smallest man on the team. Although he weighed a mere 125 pounds, he made up for this by his elusiveness and speed. His vicious tackling was another factor that made him feared by his opponents. He will be back next year.

BOB KLINGENSMITH . . . Although this was his first year of football, Bob proved himself to be a redoubtable battler at all times. His hard blocking on the offensive and deadly tackling on the defensive made him an asset that will be hard to replace.

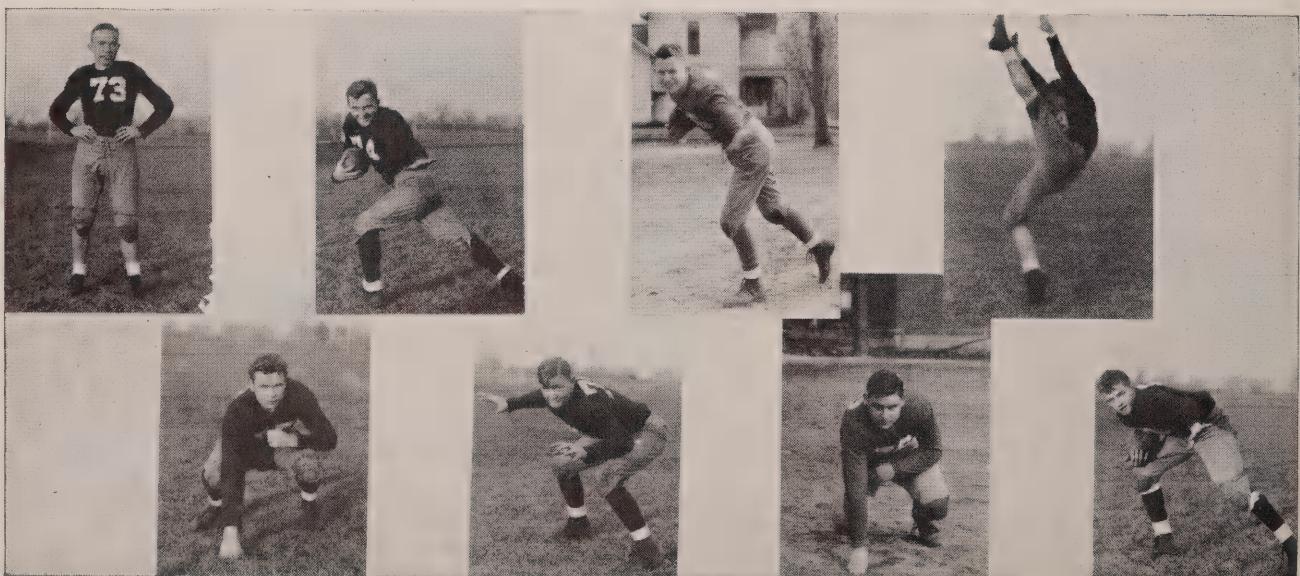

PAUL LADD . . . Paul was the unluckiest man that ever donned a football uniform. In his Freshman and Sophomore years he showed his ability for the game, but as a Junior he was kept from making his letter because of a leg injury which he received in practice. This year it was his misfortune to be involved in an auto accident which confined him to bed. There has never been a boy in high school more deserving of a football letter than Paul.

QUENTIN BOWERS . . . Whenever the Bowling Green team's line needed to be bolstered, Coach Bruce Hamm could always rely on Bowers to take over the task. Bowers weighed 176 pounds and caused his opponents no end of trouble. "Tubby" played guard and his success can be attributed to his fine defensive play. Quentin, who has another year, will undoubtedly play the guard position next year which was vacated by Captain Tom Buchman.

MELVIN WENTZ . . . "Lefty" was the best punter on the squad. Although weighing only 136 pounds, he was full of the aggressive spirit which every good footballer must have. He played a fine defensive game and was inserted in the line-up whenever a good punter, passer or defensive man was needed. Wentz is a Junior and will play plenty of football for Bowling Green High School next year.

DICK FOSTER . . . "Dick" was one of the fastest and cleverest men on the team. His ability to throw passes and elude the defense made him a regular starter in the line-up. He will be a valuable man for next year's team.

ORVILLE AUSTIN . . . "Red", playing his first year of scholastic football, will be remembered by his team-mates for his fight, determination, and willingness. Orville started playing football as a Freshman on the first Junior High football team and his play this year showed that he knew many of the finer points of the game. Austin also will be back next year.

Senior High School ==

ON THE GRIDIRON ==

STANLEY YODER . . . This was Stan's first full year of football because of a broken leg received at the first of the 1935 season. He played fullback and played because of his "love for the game". Yoder is undoubtedly as good a backfield man as ever was turned out in this high school. He could place-kick, line-plunge, block and tackle with deadly accuracy. Yoder will be back next year and will surely gain further distinctions in athletics.

EDDIE LAMBERT . . . Eddie was the fastest man on the team and he thrilled the crowds many times with his long runs. Although small, he was a hard tackler and fierce blocker. He was a Sophomore this year, so he is expected to be back next year.

HARRY SMITH . . . "Jewboy" was the triple threat man on the team. He punted, passed and ran with equal ability. Many a gain was attributed to his deadly passing. His position will be hard to fill next season.

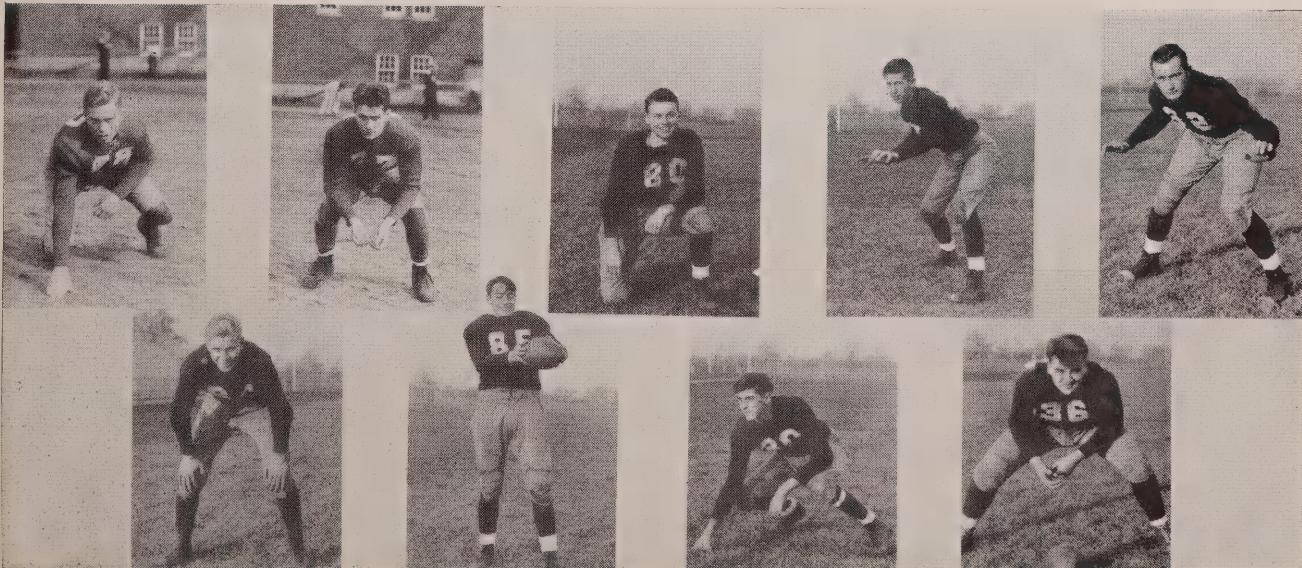

JERRY CARTER . . . This was Carter's last year and he closed his athletic career on the gridiron with a fitting climax. He was the Bobcats' hardest driving guard and many opponents were stopped by his hard tackling. The loss of Jerry will considerably weaken next year's team.

DICK GERNERT . . . Dick brought his athletic career as a player at Bowling Green High School to a close in a most brilliant fashion. He played three years of varsity football, winning a letter each year. Dick was considered by many as one of the outstanding ends in Northwestern Ohio. He was a marked man in every game because of his pass catching ability, his brilliant defensive play, and his possession of an uncanny ability for blocking punts. He will be greatly missed next year.

DICK ELWELL . . . Elwell came to Bowling Green High School from Toledo where he had attended Libbey. Dick played end most of the time but because of his blocking ability was shifted into the backfield later in the season. Elwell played brilliantly in every game, but one remembers most the fine defensive game that he played at Bryan. Dick played the game as every true athlete should and possessed a "fight to win" spirit.

DON BELL . . . Weighing 220 pounds, "Big Herm" was the mainstay of the Bobcat forward wall. Whenever the going got tough and the Hammies found themselves with their backs to the goal, it was always Bell who could be counted on to stop the opponents at the center of the line. This will be one of the main reasons the Bobcats should have a successful season next year.

TOM BUCHMAN . . . Tom was truly the captain in every sense of the word. He not only kept the rest of the team running smoothly at all times, but he made a name for himself in Northwestern Ohio athletic circles by his hard blocking and fierce tackling. His position will be hard to fill next year.

— ALL IN A DAY —

Spectators drift slowly onto the cinder track winding around the field. They carry colorful Indian blankets, newspapers, and printed programs. Gradually, the stadium begins to fill with excited fans who sit, nervously awaiting the "kick-off."

Finally the teams come running onto the field and the spectators greet them with cheers of approval. Cheerleaders salute the players with a rousing yell. Suddenly, a sound splits the air, already tense with expectation. The announcer for the day, gives the line-ups over the Public Address System, but his voice is almost inaudible because of the cheers that issue from the crowd as each player's name is announced. Finally the game starts amid shouts of enthusiasm.

* * * * *

Candy wrappers lie scattered near the refreshment stand. A crowd of hungry high school students stands munching "hot-dogs." Slowly, they wander toward the gate. The teams have already disappeared. The game proved to be a hard fight and the boys were anxious to get to the locker rooms. Both teams fought their hardest but the last second in the game left the score still 6-6. The fans who so excitedly watched the battle between the two teams, now disappear into their automobiles and drive away. The game is over . . . the cheers are over . . . and the stadium is . . . deserted.

== BASKETBALL ==

In every school athletically inclined, there comes the time when the sports-loving fans wait anxiously for basketball season to start. This sport is one of the favorites here in B. G. H. S. and each year when the time comes for basketball practice, there are always plenty of fans to follow the teams throughout the long line of games.

During the last few years basketball has come to replace football as the major sport in many schools. This year the Bobcats played a much heavier schedule than they have previously. The high spots of the '37 season came when they played some of the Toledo schools, here-to-fore unchallenged by B. G. (and licked them, too!)

This last year the Bobcats have played many successful games, and the staff takes this opportunity of reviewing the basketball season of 1936-37 for the readers.

MASON

FOSTER

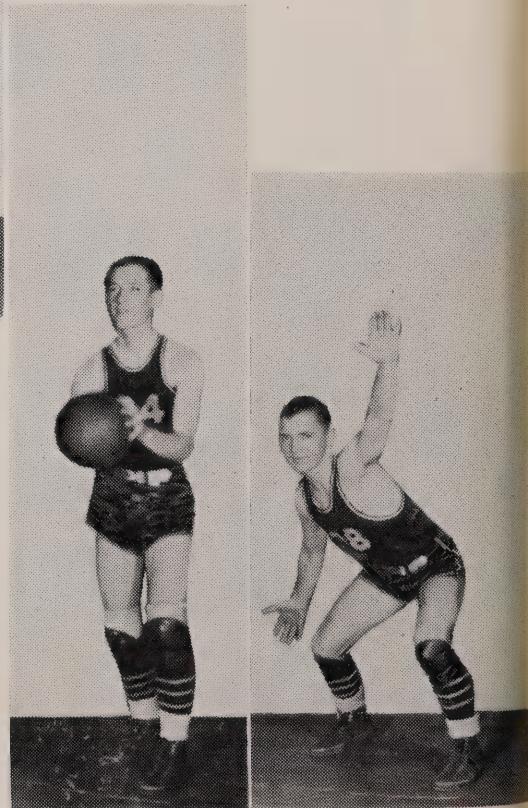

DICK FOSTER . . . Playing his first year of varsity basketball, Foster fitted nicely into the Bobcat machine. Dick played a steady game of ball and was termed by many as a "ball hawk". Dick will be back next year and we are sure he will display an even better brand of ball.

DON PATTERSON . . . "Don" had the tough luck of having a "bum" knee but even so he was a good passer and many a basket can be attributed to his unerring shooting. If his knee is in good shape he will probably hold a regular position next year.

JACK SIMONDS . . . Somewhat handicapped by his size, Jack could still stay in there with the best of them. His speed and clever ball handling baffled many opponents. He should step into a regular position next year if he keeps up his stellar playing.

DON MASON . . . One of Marsh's proteges, Don Mason proved himself to be a most valuable man when he pulled the Defiance game "out of the fire" at the Napoleon tournament. His accurate shooting gained many a point for the team and he is to be counted on doing great things next year.

DICK DUNIPACE . . . Whenever our opponents got a little rough, "Irish" was sent in to "tame" them down. Despite this, he always kept his head and played a cool game. He should be a valuable asset to next year's team.

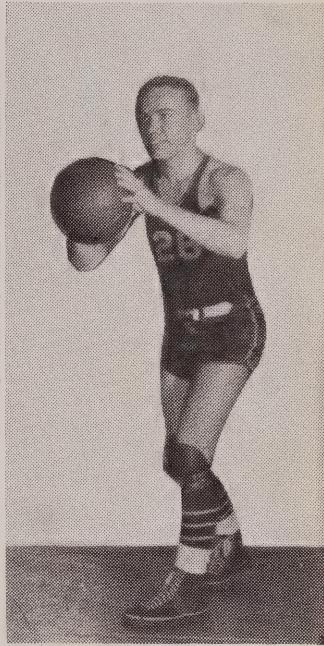

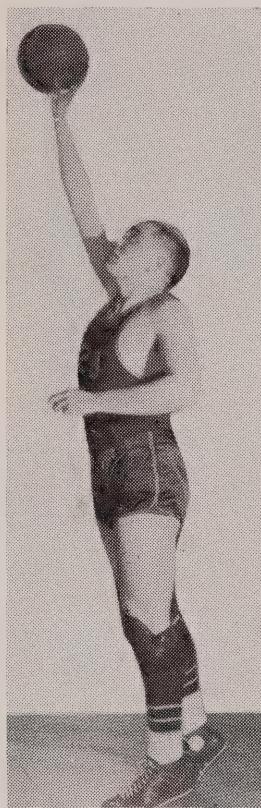

PATTERSON

SIMONDS

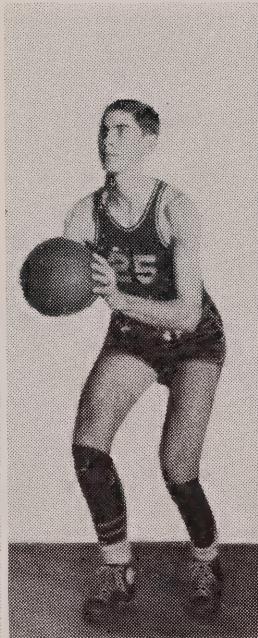

Senior High School ==

FRED UHLMAN . . . "Freddy" was one of the best defensive men in Northwestern Ohio and also was a good long-shot. Uhlman never gave up but kept fighting until the game was over. As a Junior, "Fritz" started playing varsity basketball and since then he has developed rapidly. When the other team had a fine offensive man Uhlman was assigned to guard him and he usually kept the threat-man from scoring many points. Fred is a Senior this year and he will be missed next winter.

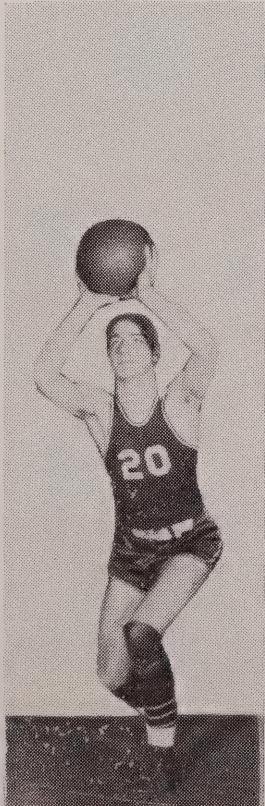

DON BELL . . . Don, star with Marsh's reserves last year, proved to be one of the leading varsity players in this year's team. "Herm" could always be counted on for eight or ten points and whenever the going got tough it seemed that he played even better. He should be one of the best centers in Ohio if he continues to improve as he has done in the past.

UHLMAN

BELL

GERNERT

DICK GERNERT . . . After playing three years of stellar basketball at forward, Dick was elected captain by his team-mates. He displayed his ability as a leader throughout the season and played fine offensive and defensive basketball. Gernert led the team in scoring with 148 points, and his position will be hard to fill next year.

HARRY SMITH . . . "Jewboy" was known as the team clown but whenever he got the call he could be counted on to hold his own. Harry is a Senior this year and his wit and good playing will be missed after he graduates.

JAMES STACY . . . "Jim" ended his high school athletic career in a blaze of glory. Stacy has always been considered a good "tournament player" and this year he lived up to his reputation. Jim was the only Bobcat player chosen on the all-tourney team. Furthermore, he was designated captain because of his outstanding performance in playing the game.

TOURAMENT PLAY

For the first game of the tournament the Bobcats drew the tough Defiance outfit. Although Bowling Green had defeated them in a regular season game, Bowling Green was by no means the favorite.

The game started at a slow pace and the first quarter ended in a tie. At the half the teams were deadlocked again and at the end of the third quarter Defiance held a one point lead. However, the Bobcats put up an air-tight defense in the last quarter and held Defiance to one point while they scored six for Bee Gee. The final score was 25-21. Don Mason was the hero of this game when he sank one of his long shots at the critical point of the game.

In the second game, Coach Hamm's men met Liberty Center who advanced by lacing Napoleon previously in the tournament. The Indians proved to be no competition for the accurate shooting Bobcats and were given a sound drubbing. The final score was 47-25.

The final game brought the Bowling Green Bobcats up against the Perrysburg Yellow Jackets who had defeated the Bobcats in a scheduled game during the season. However, the odds were even before the game.

The game opened with Bowling Green taking an early three point lead. The game slowed down considerably as the quarter ended in our favor, 3-2. The second quarter found the locals unable to hit the loop as the Yellow Jackets poured them in from all angles. The half ended 11-8 in favor of Perrysburg.

The third quarter spelled defeat for the Bobcats as Gernert, Uhlman and Bell were ousted on fouls. Stacy put on a one man show in the last quarter in an attempt to overtake their lead, but it was to no avail.

The final gun found the Bobcats on the short end of a 33-24 score and Perrysburg the representative of this district in the state finals at Columbus.

==MINOR SPORTS==

Everyone cannot be star quarterback on a football team, or a high-jumping center on a basketball squad, but in nearly every modern school there are some types of minor sports in which almost every student can participate. We students of B. G. H. S. have been especially fortunate to have such a well rounded athletic program.

This year we have had stars in nearly all fields of minor sports. We even produced an A-1 tumbling team and that's something!

Even the girls have displayed unusual talent in their games and have attained new goals in girls' sports. It is fitting that we should devote one section of this year-book to the field of minor sports, and its stars. Each of them has done his part, and although his achievements may have gone unnoticed by some, the staff wishes to give some mention of those athletes.

— = = = TRACK LETTERMEN = = = —

DICK STOOTS—Dick ran the half mile, 440 and was anchor man on the medley relay team. This man was a consistent point-getter and could always be counted on to come through in the pinches. Dick is a Senior this year and will be hard to replace next year.

JIM ONOFRIO—Jimmy was the smallest man on the squad but yet the biggest. His favorite run being the mile, he holds the high school record for this event. His opponents were always larger than he was but he always "cut them down to his own size." He will graduate this year.

TOM LAHEY—Tom was unable to be present when the picture was taken but he was always present when it came time to throw the discus. Tom set a new record this year when he flung the discus 111 ft. He will not be back next year.

DON BELL—In contrast to Onofrio, Don Bell was the biggest man on the squad. He only entered one event, the shot put, but he did this very effectively, setting a new field record of 43½ ft. He will be back next year.

DICK GERNERT—Dick set new track records in the 100 yd. dash and the javelin. He also ran anchor position on the 880 relay team. Dick will graduate in June.

HARRY SMITH—The shot put and javelin were Harry's main events. He always ran a close second to Bell in the shot put. Harry will graduate in June.

LLOYD SHELTON—Lloyd was one of the fastest men on the squad. He entered in all the dashes and in the broad jump. His points could always be counted on and he will be greatly missed next year.

EDDIE LAMBERT—Eddie proved a valuable asset to the team last year but was unfortunately ineligible this year because of credits. If he is eligible next year he should be a great dash man.

JIM HUNTER—Jim fulfilled all expectations as a great broad jumper when he set a new school record of 19' 10" this year. He will be back next year to try to better this mark.

EARL SMITH—Earl has just finished his third year as manager for the team. He will be back next year as he is now a Junior.

== TRACK ==

Coach Clayton Cook was very enthusiastic when nine lettermen reported for the 1937 track season. However, the progress was very slow as the team was hampered by rain and a soft track. Three of the meets Perrysburg, Maumee and Tontogany—were postponed because of unfavorable climatic conditions.

The first meet was almost a disaster as the Bobcats were beaten by a strong Bryan outfit, 105-27. However, the fact that the Bowling Green outfit placed in every event except the pole vault proved that they had the makings of a good team.

— TENNIS SQUAD —

First Row: Fred Reichert, Don Mason, Dick Dunipace, Dale Rood.
Second Row: Gerald Harms, Arthur Siebens, Darwin Mayfield, Bob Warren.

Due to the loss of the first four men through graduation last year Coach L. O. Willhite has had to form a tennis squad composed almost completely of new men. Don Mason is the only returning letterman. He, along with Arthur Siebens, Dick Dunipace and Fred Reichert, made up the squad which has played in most of the matches.

Competition began on April 7 when Napoleon came to B. G. to defeat the Bobcats 3-2. This defeat was followed by two victories when the local racket-wielders whitewashed an inexperienced Defiance team once on the home courts and once at Defiance. The team members traveled to Findlay May 10 where they met defeat 4-1 and the next day Bluffton defeated the Bobcats by the same score. The remaining schedule of games includes three Toledo teams.

The District Tennis Tournament was held on the Bowling Green Tennis Courts May 21. The following week the victorious teams went to Columbus to play in the State Tournament.

All the boys on the present squad will be back next year so Coach Willhite expects to have a strong and experienced team to send on the courts in '38.

== GOLF ==

Coach Raymond Rubrake issued the first call for 1937 Bobcat golf candidates on April 18. Kenneth Kidd and Dick Gernert were the only lettermen from last year.

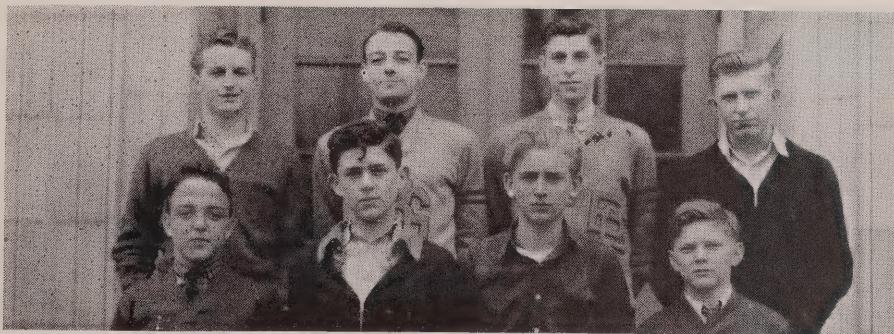

With only five days of practice and qualifying rounds the squad suffered a 6-12 defeat at the hands of the strong Sylvania team, Saturday, April 24 on the local course.

The following Thursday they showed mid-season form by trouncing Maumee 11-7 on the home course.

Friday, April 30, the Bobcats traveled to Sylvania and were once again set back $11\frac{1}{2}$ - $6\frac{1}{2}$. The match was played on the Highland Meadows golf course.

DeVilbiss was the next Waterloo for the Bowling Green outfit. Playing on the home course was no advantage for the Bobcats as they were soundly trounced 14-4.

The Bobcats took to the road again and were partially successful in that they tied Fostoria 6-6. This was a four-man match instead of the usual six.

— SENIOR GIRLS' BASKETBALL TEAMS —

First Row: Joyce Johnson, Catherine Echle, Florence Risser, Ruth Ketzenbarger, Geraldine Naugle, Ellen Jane Kramp, Clarabelle Long, Eleanor McElhaney, Katherine White, Alice Carmichael, Harriett McKnight.

Second Row: Lois Cooper, Anna Mae McDowell, Sue Lindower, Glendora Woods, Thelma Bressler, Lucille Boice, Rowena Knight, Nancy Lee Lehmann, Jeanne Waugh.

Every fall the girls have basketball practice, just the same as the boys. The final teams that are chosen, however, do not play outside school. After extensive practices Miss Katherine Ruh, the physical education instructor for the girls, chooses the first and second teams who are to represent the various classes. These girls are chosen on a basis of their ability, the number of practices they have attended, and the general knowledge of the game. A tournament is then started among the various class teams. At the end of the season a winner is declared.

This activity teaches the girls to work and co-operate with each other, in addition to providing them with an interesting diversion. The above picture is of the Senior Girls' first and second teams.

Below is pictured the champion girls' intramural team which played during the noon hours.

Second Row: Madeliene Warren, Ila Gene Ash.

==G. A. A. LETTER GIRLS==

First Row: Alice Carmichael, Harriet McKnight.

Second Row: Clarabelle Long, Rowena Knight, Geraldine Naugle.

Third Row: Glendora Woods, Catherine Echle, Joyce Johnson, Ruth Ketzenbarger.

Nine smiling young ladies proudly exhibit G. A. A. letters in the above picture. And why shouldn't they? They hiked, played basketball, worked as officers in the organization, and participated in all the other sport activities sponsored by their leader, Miss Katherine Ruh.

In order to merit one of these letters each of the girls had to have at least seven hundred points. These could be obtained by participation in different club activities. For instance, a girl receives fifty points for being a board member, and a hundred points for making a first-class team in girls' basketball. A girl may be a member three years if she earns one hundred points during each year. This method of point rating has proved very successful since it acts as an accurate record of each member's achievements.

Miss Ruh presents the letters to the girls meriting them at the annual G. A. A. banquets. This year's banquet was held May 20, in the school cafeteria. The room was attractively decorated in spring colors. The members of the ninth grade first team in girls' basketball were the guests of honor and seated at the head table with the board members. After the dinner those present enjoyed an hour of entertainment and dancing.

IRMA STEVENS

ARNA YAWBERG

ME-E-E-O-O-W, BOBCATS!

Without the aid of these two girls it doubtless would have been difficult for the fighting Bobcats to have had such a victorious season as they had. Whether at home or away, these cheerleaders bore the torch of victory. Their faithfulness to their duty has won them great praise. We are proud that they could wear the scarlet and gray colors of "Old Bee Gee High."

Irma and Arna promoted good sportsmanship among the fans and discouraged those who tried to cause disorder. All through their long period of cheerleading they did not receive a complaint on their work. Although Irma will leave us this year Arna will be back next year to support the Bobcats.

Irma was awarded a school letter for cheerleading in an assembly on May 20.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

— TURKEY TROT —

Swinging to the tunes of Ernie Dunfield and his boys, the members of the student body enjoyed themselves thoroughly when those aggressive Juniors opened the social season of B. G. High with a bang by presenting that famous all-school dance, "The Turkey Trot," on November 20, 1936.

Entering upon the scene, one's eye was quickly drawn to the orchestra which was cleverly enclosed by cornstalks. Spotlight turkeys beamed their approval upon the gala event.

Ping Pong and other novelties were featured for the pleasure of those not participating in the dancing.

Against this background, "Don" Mason, popular young Junior, introduced such specialties as the "Circle" and "Tag" dances.

The high light of the evening came, however, when Dorothy Mercer, an attractive young singer, gave her interpretation of such popular numbers as "Shoe Shine Boy" and "The Little Things You Used to Do."

As the last notes died away, the dancers reluctantly left, all readily agreeing that it was a dance not to be forgotten!

— SKULE DAYS —

Those sporty Seniors certainly outdid themselves when they presented that good old fashioned jig, "Skule Daze" on January 22, 1937. Who could have anything but a grand time with Graham Riley a'swinging that old baton? And what's more — those who couldn't dance weren't slighted either, for tables for cards and Ping Pong had all been arranged in order to provide entertainment for them.

Paul Ladd certainly proved himself a gallant crooner when he sang that number one hit, "Chapel in the Moonlight."

Dorothy Mercer, Irma Stevens, and Betty Sams furnished the feature hits of the evening when they harmonized on several popular numbers.

But while we're talking about talent, we mustn't forget that attractive little dancer, Charline Schwind, who captivated the crowd with a hula hula dance, accompanied on the guitar by that unique player, Arthur Hale.

With all this amusement and punch, besides, it isn't any wonder that "Skule Daze" proved to be a great success.

== 'S HOP ==

Swing music . . . soft lights . . . beautiful girls . . . and lovely decorative effects set the keynote for one of the season's smartest social events, the 'S Hop sponsored by the Sophomore Class. Graham Riley and his orchestra from Tiffin swung into the first dance of the evening at 9:00 P. M.

At 10:00 P. M. a spectacular floor show was presented by 11 of Erica Ransome's specialty dance artists. Eight seventh graders served punch throughout the evening. Dorothy Mercer and Irma Stevens sang various dance numbers accompanied by the orchestra.

Dwight Cross, as master of ceremonies handled his position with the ease of a professional. The gymnasium was transformed most effectively into a ballroom by seductive music, soft lights, and murmuring voices floating across the room by the gay and sleek dancers. It was only after a delightful evening that the guests regretfully departed.

— N. H. S. INSTALLATION —

The formal induction ceremony was held for the members of the 1937 National Honor Society in the cafeteria Wednesday evening, May 26. The entire program was in charge of the alumni. They had the room beautifully decorated to carry out the established ideals of the organization. The center of interest was the national insignia, around which the entire decoration scheme revolved. Parents and friends of the candidates witnessed the impressive ceremony.

Those members who were in charge of the program were as follows: George Beattie, Margaret Zaugg, Pauline Bates, Mary Louise Gibson, Rachael Phillips, Bill Rothe, and Fred Chamberlain.

The members were chosen from the upper third of the class scholastically speaking. Leadership, character and service were other factors which were taken into consideration. Every worthy contribution they have given to their high school was taken into consideration. In order to be elected, each candidate had to receive the votes of at least 14 of the 16 voters. This fact alone shows that these 12 people are representative of the school as members of the National Honor Society. To be a member in this organization is not only an honor, but also a privilege. Every member's name is placed on a bronze tablet in the lobby of the building, and they are the only people who may wear the official emblem of this national scholastic organization.

The 12 Seniors who have been honored with membership in the National Honor Society this year are as follows: Harriet McKnight, Glendora Woods, Irma Stevens, Alice Carmichael, Betty Beach, Rosella Heinze, Doris Finch, Dorothy Rothrock, Darwin Mayfield, Kenneth Harger, Frank Britt and Dick Gernert.

Chills, thrills, and laughs were furnished all those who attended the 1937 Senior Class Play "Murder In Rehearsal". This year's performance was attended by an unusually large crowd and was enjoyed by everyone.

Jack Ellery (Dick Gernert) is the play director who causes so much trouble as the result of drinking a glass of lime rickey.

Claudia Warren, his fiancee, (Harriet McKnight) and her bitter rival Sheila Burnett (Barbara Hallinan) managed to remain on speaking terms although they are anything but good friends.

Mrs. Fiske Warren (Glendora Woods) and Harold Knight (Paul Ladd) both are accused of having some connection with the mysterious crime that is committed. Trilby, the inevitable maid (Irma Stevens) and her brother Chubby Forbes (Kenneth Harger) get into some pretty tight places, but manage to get out of them by some fast talking.

Sheriff Cullen (Frank Britt) does an excellent job of always getting his man (at least he chases him a lot).

Daffy Carmichael, the half-wit (Bill Berry) brought many laughs by his slow, comical speeches and Stack Hilton, a soda dispenser, (Gerald Harms), finally presented the solution to the whole complicated mystery which brought the presentation to a surprising finish.

The production of "Murder In Rehearsal", was directed by Mr. F. G. Skibbie, dramatics instructor. The business and production staff was as follows:

Advertising Manager	Harry Burkhalter
Assistant Advertising Manager	Eleanor McElhaney
Ticket Sales Manager	Nancy Lee Lehmann
Assistant Ticket Sales Manager	Betty Beach
Stage Manager	Dorothy Rothrock
Property Manager	Ralph Spears

—HI-Y FORMAL—

Sophistication is the word for it! Word for what? Why the Hi-Y formal, of course!

Those boys really used the elbow grease for once and showed us what they could do . . . and what's more they did it!

Going nationalistic in style, they decorated in good old fashioned red, white and blue with streamers suspended from each backboard and also on either side of the orchestra.

On entering the gym, the lighted emblem held the center of attraction, and added great dignity to the affair.

The dance floor was illuminated by softly colored flood lights which served as a lovely background for those striking female beauties all dressed up to kill.

However, we mustn't give the boys all the credit . . . for what's a dance without a woman . . . a B. G. High woman at that!

—CORONATION BALL—

May 14, 1937

Greeted by two doormen in military attire the Juniors and Seniors entered the high school for the eighth annual Junior-Senior Prom. Those attending placed their signatures in an especially designed guest book. Sophomore attendants presented each person with a lovely royal purple leather dance program. The doors of the ballroom were kept closed until the Grand March assembled and then came the first glimpse of tall white pillars, English shields, flags, and soft lights.

While the orchestra, directed by Phil Nelson, played "Changing of the Guard" an aisle of couples formed. Trumpeters, Donald Hilty and Donald Nixon, announced the arrival of the Junior Class President, Don Bell and his guest Gayle Boosembark. Next came little Marlyn Brigham carrying a crown on a white satin pillow. Another sound of the trumpets announced Kenneth Harger, Senior Class President and Donna Mae Perkins.

After being crowned king and queen of the ball Kenneth and Donna Mae led the Grand March. Dancing followed while flood lights were played on the gala crowd. After intermission Miss Erika Ransom presented a half hour of entertainment by some of her outstanding Toledo students. Punch was served throughout the evening by the Sophomores. Dancing continued until 12:00 o'clock when with the playing of the "Coronation Waltz" another Junior-Senior Prom came to an end.

DEDICATION

To Mr. Frederick Fauntleroy Marsh, we lovingly and affectionately dedicated the 1937 Bi-Hecko until he gently but firmly refused to accept the honor. The reasons for his refusal are unknown to us, but we accuse him of false modesty.

During the past year, as in other years, Fred has been a great pal to the student body as a whole. Instead of bawling us out for chewing gum, he chewed it with us. When our gum got stale, he furnished us with new and advised us to dispose of the old by "planking" it on some object close to us. Fred always says that it is energy wasted to walk from a seat to the waste paper basket just to throw a wad of gum into it when one's desk is so handy. Too, he says, "What the Sam Hill are the janitors getting paid for if not to clean up the joint?" We fear that he says this when he knows that the janitors aren't around — but maybe we're wrong.

So — we Seniors say in parting, "Never refuse a stick of gum from Freddie or he'll be offended, Juniors and Sophomores."

REDEDICATION

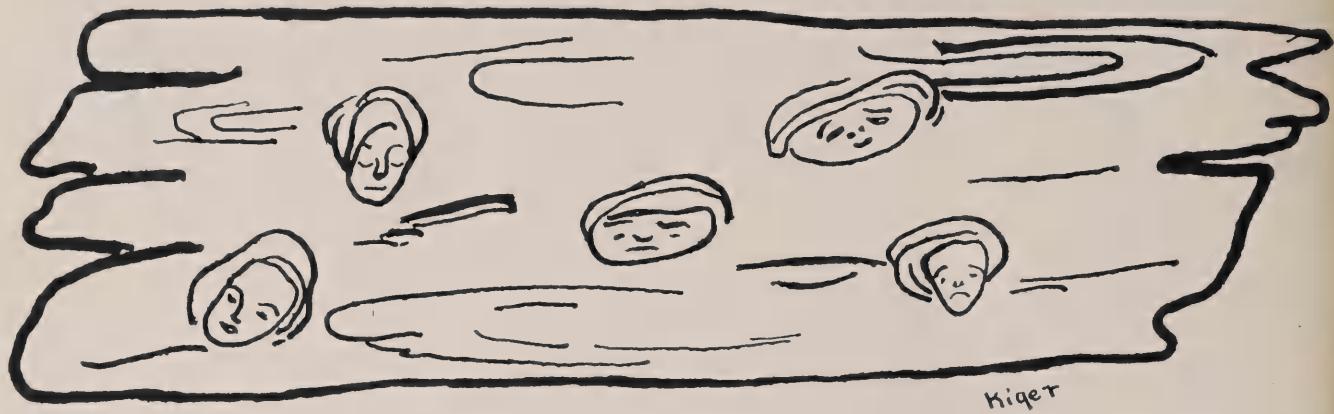

As soon as Mr. Marsh made public his polite refusal of the dedication of this annual in his honor, there was a heated dispute among the various other teachers as to who should be the recipient of the honor.

After much thought we came to the conclusion that all could not have this honor nor could all be pictured here, so we decided to analyze the features of the teachers and attempt to make a composite picture showing an outstanding feature of each instructor in the Senior High School. You can see for yourself the result of our strenuous efforts. (Don't study the picture too carefully for resemblances — you may not find them.) We can only hope that we have in some way gratified the desires of those who wished to have the honor of dedication conferred upon them.

Therefore, in desperation and with glee in our childish hearts, we mirthfully dedicate to all the members of the faculty who can recognize a bit of themselves in this portrait this 1937 Bi-Hecko.

BORED OF EDUCATION

Our most illustrious and distinguished board of education was in knot holes today when the tallest knot hole, W. H. G., (guess who) thought of leaving because of the amount of gum that had been stuck around him. The rest of the "bored" members took up the issue and decided that they might take the gum to fill the knots that were left open, (namely themselves) but this idea was immediately done away with as tall Mr. Knothole objected, saying that one sticky bored knothole was bad enough without having four more on the board's hands. Too, he said that the board was sticky enough with one gummy knothole when it came to handing out the do-re-mi- without making it stickier by adding other sticky members.

The other "bored" members immediately stated that it was no time to get lyrical, but that they were willing to comply with the wishes of their "bored" brother and instead of having gum in the future placed on the outside of the illustrious board of (K)nots - er - education, they would request that all gum be placed in their mouths — whether used or otherwise.

All "bored" knotholes - er - members seemed quite satisfied with the decision and went merrily on their way to the board (you know — board and room.)

SENIORS

James "Goo Goo" Stacy is quoted as saying, "I may suck my thumb, but I'm no sissy."

Fred "Dunderhead" Uhlman feels that after two more BIG boxes of wheaties, he ought to be able to tackle Bill Rothe.

Charles "Percival" Hamblin, class valedictorian, is quoted as saying, "I attribute my brilliance to skipping school. (Ps-s-st, what does valedictorian mean?)"

"Fedora Lulu" Woods just rolls her eyes and the boys gather round.

Irma Stevens says, "all work and no play makes any one dumb, but I'm certainly not."

SENIORS

"Bigtime Poker Face" Jim Onofrio pitches pennies at the Purity.

Paul "Caruso" Ladd is quoted as saying, "who is this guy, named Crosby?"

Ellen "Bubbles" Kramp is now being featured in her famous bubble dance at the Capitol. They say that you'd better come early if you want a seat—so don't say we didn't give you fair warning.

Joyce "Nightingale" Johnson must be an angel if looks don't deceive. Ask a certain curly-haired lad who seems to like the Purity on Saturday nights and Sunday afternoons about this. He knows whether she is or not.

Nancy Lee Lehmann is just a little girl with big ideas, who longs to become a crooner's wife when she grows up.

JUNIOR LINEUP

Gayle Boosembark, alias Ima Cutie, has been fined and sentenced to one year in jail for gold digging without a license. She believes that since good times are coming back, her prospects will be better when she gets out.

Jim Zeigler, alias John Doolittle, has a jail sentence of one hard year of labor. He is quoted as having said this before entering prison.
"No mon—no fun
Work—shirk
Stole—roll
Spot—hot."

Helen "Stoop" Mariner, because of good conduct now acts as trustee in our local prison. She has been in prison so long that her offense has been forgotten. We give her three more years to get out.

Don Mason, alias "Ace" Mason, has been jailed to serve one year sentence for robbing Barbara Avery of many a good night's sleep. Barbara says she doesn't object to being Mrs. 10463.

SOPHOMORE LINEUP

Mary Honor Crowley is serving a two-year sentence for rowdiness and general misbehavior. She is reported to have giggled during assembly programs, chewed gum in all her study halls, etc., etc., etc.

Bud Schwind is now in solitary confinement for disturbing the peace by attempting to do a spring dance on Main street. His sentence has been set from two to three years and he is under the direct supervision of Warden, A. B. Conklin.

Mary Louise Hatfield has been jailed for stealing Dick Foster's heart and promises to stay two more years if the board of education installs sound-proof walls. Noises bother her.

Bob Sutton was sent to the "big house" in '35 when he got beyond control of the authorities across the street. He may be paroled on good conduct, but we think not.

SENIOR CLASS MEMORIAL

Since it is customary for the Senior class to leave something to the school, we will leave it.

In addition, the Senior class is also leaving the school a $3,000,000 fun house, which is now under construction and will probably be completed during the summer months. It is to be added across the entire south end of the building, and is to take up as much room as space and money will permit.

The house contains a pool room in which the students may indulge in a game of pool whenever time permits and even if it doesn't permit. This room is being constructed chiefly for the purpose of keeping lads off the street and out of Anderson's "Library".

Refreshment booths at which one may revive one's energies with a coke or a hot dog are also under construction. (Of course no charity or credit is to be extended to anyone as the upkeep of the fun house will prove to be quite expensive.)

Special booths are being installed for those who wish to smoke or to listen to the radio between periods. Ventilators are to be placed in these rooms so the smoke will not enter the various other parts of the building to annoy the teachers and the student body.

Due to the fact that the Senior class will be practically broke after this vast improvement has been made for the school, we've asked Mr. Conklin to kindly supervise the house during his spare moments — free gratis. At times when he can not do so, Mr. Littleton is to be imported from the Junior High to carry on the good work. Of course we wish to impress upon both that even though they have kindly consented to take care of affairs for nothing, we still feel that both should refrain from eating up the profits.

* * * * *

As an after-thought, may we suggest that donations will be appreciated for the worthy cause of constructing the class memorial.

THIS IS THE LAND OF OPPORTUNITY!

"From newsboy to captain of industry—from farmer to Governor"—romantic stories of success from a humble start are written on the pages of our history.

Likewise, cold facts and figures show impressively that this is the land of opportunity for the mass of people. Today forty million persons own 24 billions in savings deposits. Sixty million persons have life insurance policies of 22 billions with a future value of 110 billions. Ten million private homes, worth 30 billion dollars, are owned by individuals.

That holds true of all wealth—farms and homes, tangible property of all kinds, stock and bonds in big and small corporations, including the banks of the country.

you in your rise!*
